Start marker
 (for Spring Lane car park)

Control marker (centre of circle)

What you need...

- Clothing and footwear suitable for a walk or jog in parkland.
- A pen or a pencil to record the letters on the posts.
- Optionally, a compass to help you keep the map facing the right way.

What to do...

The aim is to navigate around a route finding each of the control markers that are located on posts at the centre of the numbered circles on your map.

Control markers are red and white signs with a number and letter. The number matches the number on your map.

The letter can be recorded in the table on this page.

A description of each post location is provided in the table.

The map legend...

The legend provides a description of each of the map symbols. Look at these carefully. On an orienteering map white represents trees that you can run beneath, and orange represents open grassland. The paths are shown as dashed black lines. The thicker lines are wider paths.

First steps...

An important skill is setting the map. This means turning the map until the symbols on the map line up with the corresponding features on the ground. This will help you to proceed in the right direction. Use the paths to navigate to the control markers

Routes...

Suggested routes of varying difficulty are provided on this sheet. Do not try to remember the routes as orienteering is a test of navigation. Instead try a route in reverse or design your own.

The Very Easy route is suitable for wheelchairs, and for buggies in good weather.
